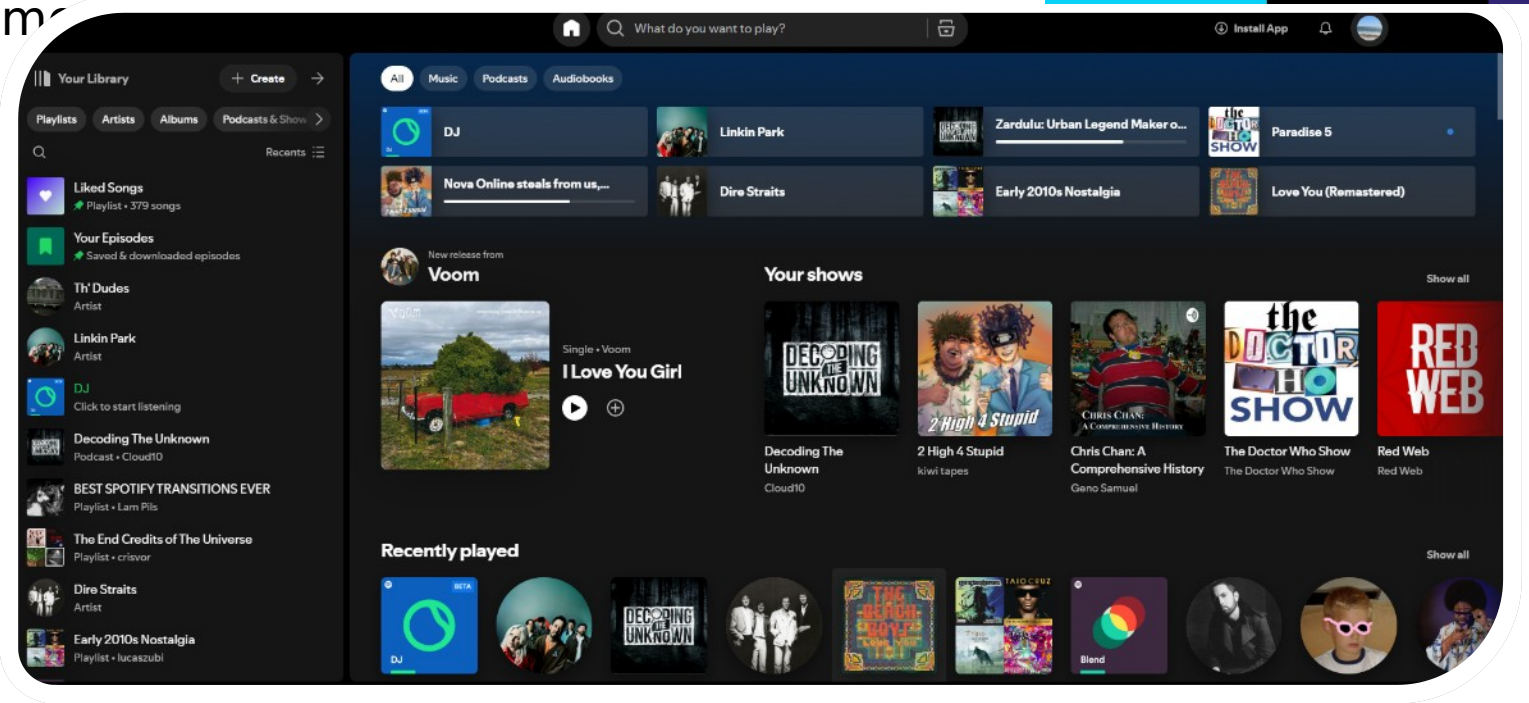
HOW ENTERTAINMENT MEDIA AFFECTS US

- Consuming entertainment media can positively affect us through improving moods by providing a feeling of enjoyment or relaxation , strengthening social connections if you consume together, aiding in learning through educational media, and sometimes a good book, movie or piece of music can inspire a person in a positive way.

HOW MUSIC IS CHANGING

By changing access for artists, making music more widely available, and concentrating on singles and playlists, streaming has completely changed both the music industry and how people listen to it. However, it has also brought up new difficulties for musicians in terms of incom

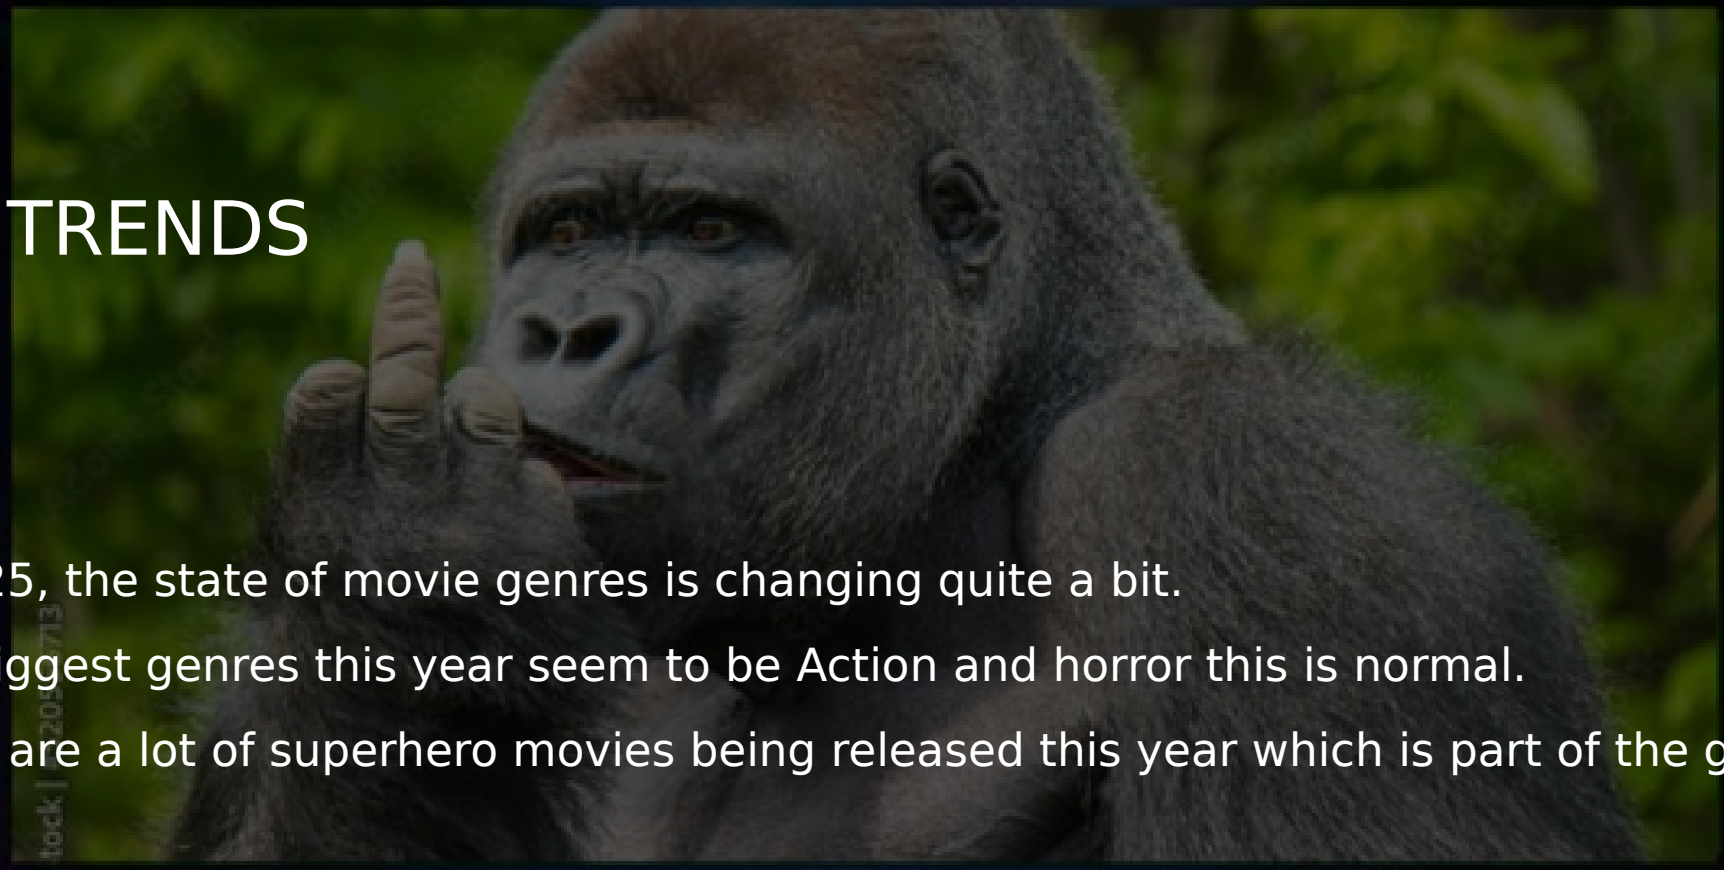


Because artists receive less money for each stream than for a complete album sale, streaming's pay-per-stream business model encourages shorter songs. Additionally, streaming has made playlist making and sharing more common, which has an impact on how people choose and arrange their music.

TV AND STREAMING

- Streaming has changed shows a lot. Streaming intends for you to watch one show at a time, watching every episode. (Binging). This means shows made for streaming services rely on an impactful attention grabbing first episode to keep the viewers attention and make them invested. Shows made for streaming tend to have much shorter seasons. Shows for tv usually have about 10-30 episodes per season, although some can have more than 100 in a season. On the other hand, streaming shows usually have about 8 episodes in a season. Shows for streaming are also much less likely to have ad breaks.

FILM TRENDS



- In 2025, the state of movie genres is changing quite a bit.
- The biggest genres this year seem to be Action and horror this is normal.
- There are a lot of superhero movies being released this year which is part of the growing trend.
- Sequels are among the movies being released. Jurassic Park, Karate kid, Tron, Avatar and more all getting more sequels this year.

POOR REPRESENTATION

- Poor representation is when you show a person that represents a type of person or a group of people, but they aren’t shown realistically and are instead based on stereotypes and not actually reflecting what people in that group are like for the most part.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD REPRESENTATION

- Good representation is when a character meant to represent a type of person or group of people is done in a way that is realistic, accurate to the way that some people act, and not based entirely on stereotypes. Good representation is usually a lot more liked for it being realistic and usually not enforcing harmful stereotypes.
